ADVERTISE

to over 1,880 bearing & power transmission distributors worldwide with the Manufacturers' Advertising Platform (MAP) - an advertising tool dedicated to your industry.

NETWORK

with hundreds of unique bearing and power transmission distributors from around the world at the BearingNet User Meetings.

DESIGNED

exclusively for the bearing and power transmission manufacturing world.

What is the Manufacturers' Advertising Platform (MAP)?

We give you direct access to 1,880+ bearing and power transmission distributors using BearingNet - the world's largest trading platform for distributors. As a member of our network, you directly access your target audience for advertising, promotion, networking and sales opportunities.

MAP is made for manufacturers like you who already sell their products via bearing and power transmission distributors or would like to begin doing so.

If you have the products, we have the distributors.

How does it work?

Choose the package to meet your budget and objectives, we will do the rest!

There are many features, packages and benefits to show you, so contact us for a quick demo and everything will be much clearer!

Manufacturers from around the world have joined the MAP and have hugely benefited from advertising to thousands of distributors.

How it benefits you and your business.

A fast way to elevate your products, increase sales and network with new distributors worldwide.

MAP will help your existing distributor network run more efficiently, in order to sell your brand.

By using different types of communications, social media, face to face networking, print and online advertising, the Manufacturers' Advertising Platform will engage your target audience and ensure you receive the best brand exposure possible.

What our members say:

We joined MAP when BearingNet first launched their manufacturing platform. The service they provide has been brilliant for Bowman and our sister division JHB with regards to our JHB Split Bearing. The Manufacturers' Advertising Platform has enabled rapid market exposure to the global bearing trade, greatly increasing our marketing to thousands of distributors.

The Manufacturers' Advertising Platform on BearingNet has helped us greatly to distribute product information to its distributor members and increases exposure of P.T. International to the global power transmission components purchasing market.
